BILL STATUS: As Introduced

FUNDS AFFECTED: GENERAL
 DEDICATED FEDERAL

IMPACT: Local

Summary of Legislation: The bill imposes certain procedural requirements on the adoption by a political subdivision of a regulation of landlord tenant relations, residential leases, or inspection of real property subject to a residential lease. It provides that such a regulation may not: (1) require the licensing or registration of owners of residential rental property; or (2) impose a fee for certain inspections. The bill provides that such a regulation may not authorize investigation or inspection of a rental unit without probable cause.

Effective Date: July 1, 2009.

Explanation of State Expenditures:

Explanation of State Revenues:

Explanation of Local Expenditures: A political subdivision wishing to adopt regulations under this provision would have to provide notice of a public hearing to rental unit owners via first class mail.

With a postcard, first class postage would be $0.27 per notification. Depending on the number of owners notified, the impact of this provision would likely be minimal to a political subdivision mailing notifications.
